

Dear FCC, Satellite radio has raised the bar in quality radio services, particularly to those in rural areas that have limited access to any broadcast radio, let alone any quality broadcasting. Please do not punish those in the satellite radio industry, who had the courage to invest in better technology in radio. The competition satellite radio brings can only serve to spur traditional broadcasters to provide a better product. This as you know, is how our nation has grown to be the global leader in many industries such and broadcasting/entertainment.

Thanks

John Mulhern
New Market, MD